Loue Compared to a Tennis Play (A)

A break down of 11 ciphers found in line 1.

1	Whereas the heart at tennis plays, and men to gaming fall,	WRIOTHESLEY	The spelling of Wriothesley is entirely within line 1.
1	Whereas the heart at tennis plays, and men to gaming fall,	HENRIE	Henrie is entirely in line 1
1	Whereas the heart at tennis plays, and men to gaming fall,	TUDOR ↓	Tdor is in line one with u in line 2.
2	Loue is the court, hope is the house, and fauour serues the ball.
1	Whereas the heart at tennis plays, and men to gaming fall,	NINTH	Ninth is entirely in line 1
1	Whereas the heart at tennis plays, and men to gaming fall,	ELISABETH ↓	Elisaeth is in line 1 with b in line 2.
2	Loue is the court, hope is the house, and fauour serues the ball.
1	Whereas the heart at tennis plays, and men to gaming fall,	REGINA	Regina is entirely in line 1.
1	Whereas the heart at tennis plays, and men to gaming fall,	WHITEHALL	Whitehall is entirely in line 1.
1	Whereas the heart at tennis plays, and men to gaming fall,	ANNE	Anne is entirely within line 1.
2	Loue is the court, hope is the house, and fauour serues the ball.	VAVASOUR	Vavasour is also in line 1.
	Whereas the heart at tennis plays, and men to gaming fall,	ELISA	Elisa is found in line 1.
	Whereas the heart at tennis plays, and men to gaming fall,	TRENTHAM	Trentham is found in line 1.

This page explains De Vere's ciphers, all hidden 'in or around' line 1 of the poem Love Compared to a Tennis Play. Wriothesley, Henrie, Tudor, Ninth, Elisabeth, Regina, and Whitehall appear in every line of the poem, as shown in my slide shows and associated videos. Anne Vavasour appears as shown only once each in the poem (lines 1 and then 2) likely because of the tongue in cheek connection between 'the heart' and 'men to gaming fall in the same lines. De Vere was having an affair with Anne Vavasour at the time of the tennis argument. Elisa Trentham ciphers are shown because they appear in the vast majority of the sonnet collection. I have only just searched & found them so they have not been commented on before.

RAY VYSE 2024 COPYRIGHT ©